Greetings, Fellow Colorado Libertarians.

It has been a busy three months since the new year started here at the LPCO Headquarters. First off, I would like to thank everyone who helped with the numerous campaigns as well as all of our 2006 candidates. Special thanks to Dawn Winkler for running an exciting and media-filled campaign. We had the opportunity to shine in several televised debates due to the performance of our gubernatorial candidate and the diligence of several dedicated volunteers (Debbie, we owe you a lot).

We had a marginal success ratio at the ballot box but gained a surprising number of supporters at the capitol. As we look forward to 2007 and beyond, we are continuing to focus on Libertarian legislation and small, winnable campaigns. The 2008 National Libertarian Party Convention will be held in Denver, and we are going to show the nation what the LPCO can do. We are also going to have our 2007 State Convention this May, and it is shaping up to be a very productive event. Our Legislative Director has been working with the Platform Committee to present a Colorado State Platform for the LPCO to adopt at this year's convention. Thanks to everyone on the committee for all your hard work.

We are expanding our campus efforts and have several very promising groups around the state (Go Seth!). We also welcome the Colorado High School Libertarians. They are a whole new bunch of supporters that have formed on their own and provide the younger generation with the basics of Libertarianism. Larimer and Montrose Counties have officially joined as party affiliates, and Gene Freeland and company are doing amazing things involving membership growth, citizen education, and candidate training. The state leadership met in Frisco, Colorado to set out the strategic plan for 2007, and it was a most beneficial gathering (and cheap too).

The most exciting thing at the moment, however, is the upcoming annual fundraiser event. Liberty Casino Night is going to be packed with good food, drinks, prizes, and celebrity dealers. Be sure to buy your ticket early to get an extra 25 gambling chips.

With the ambitious plans for this year and the preparations for the 2008 National Convention, we are in need of help. We need donations to cover the costs of all the initiatives and campaigns for this year, plus we need volunteers to manage and staff those projects. We need serious candidates to step forward for the 2008 races, as well as committed individuals to run those campaigns. We have several new tools that will help our volunteers be more effective (training, call logs, resources) but these things are not free, and neither is liberty. With your help, we can keep this wagon rolling forward at full speed. Anything helps, and volunteering is a load of fun.

The 1776 Club is our monthly pledge program, and it is the simplest way to donate. Once you sign up, your credit card is charged $17.76 every month, until you tell us to stop. This form of donation provides special benefits as it gains premier access to events and several gifts like Michael Badnarik's book, Good to be King. If you have any questions, please feel free to call or email the LPCO HQ. And remember, LPColorado.org is always a good resource for contact information and ideas on how you can volunteer. It is also the best place to donate to the party.

Sincerely yours in Liberty,

Travis Nicks

Let The Games Begin

April 21st all bets will be on a good time at the annual State Libertarian Party fundraiser held at the Ken-Caryl Ranch in Jefferson County. "I am tremendously cheerful and proud to be part of this event. This year's festivities promise to be even more grandiose than last year," said event organizer, Marc Goddard.

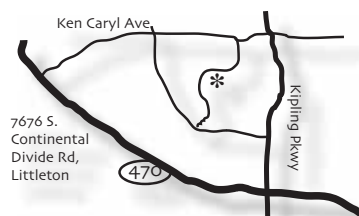

In addition to last year's gaming frivolities, this year's event will include live DJ music, raffle drawings, gourmet hors d'oeuvres, open-bar, celebrity dealers, a speech by State Party chairman Travis Nicks, and much more.

"This is one of the most exciting Libertarian events of the entire year. It brings Libertarians from all over the state for a night of camaraderie, networking, and fun," said Mr. Nicks.

Besides good fun, the importance of this year's Colorado state fundraiser is pinnacle because its success will enable the party to advance through the upcoming 2008 election season that culminates in the 2008 Libertarian National Convention in Denver. "All eyes shall be on Colorado to lead the Libertarian party forward, and I for one want to put on the best show possible. I want voters everywhere to know that Colorado is a Libertarian state," said Goddard.

Music by:

The Ken-Caryl Ranch is located at 7676 S. Continental Divide Rd. in Littleton. The event starts at 6:00 pm with gambling commencing promptly at 7:00. In anticipation of greater attendance, this year's event coordinator and Jefferson County Affiliate chairman Mike Spalding is encouraging people to purchase discounted presale tickets from the state party's website; www.lpcolorado.org/LibertyCasino2007.html. See the registration form on page 7 also.

We'll take donations to the raffle right up to the event!

2008 National Libertarian Convention & Exposition Comes to Denver!

May 23, 2008 – May 26, 2008

Join the Freedom Wave! All across America, more and more freedom thinking organizations are gathering for what may be the defining moment of the century. Prepare for four days of excitement, intrigue, and education at the glamorous Adam's Mark Hotel in beautiful downtown Denver, Colorado. Take advantage of this fabulous event to network with other like-minded people. This is a premier opportunity to gain intelligence, insight and to spread the golden wave of Freedom.

You won't want to miss these exciting events:

Presidential Banquet & Dance

Silent Auction

Comedy Sports Entertainment

5 Fabulous Meals with Exciting Speakers

Convention & Exposition

Education Seminars

Presidential Nomination and Election

Libertarian National Committee Elections

The 2008 National Libertarian Convention is America's largest gathering of freedom minded people. This event is open to over 1000 delegates, their families, and other attendees. Remember you don't have to be a delegate to sign up for the convention and enjoy all the great meals and speakers.

The 2008 Bi-Annual Convention & Exposition is the premier networking event for Libertarians. Delegates conference to select our presidential and vice presidential candidates, select our National Committee, perfect our Libertarian bylaws and platform, network, learn about campaign issues/trends, and find new ways to fight for freedom.

This year the exhibition hall is located in the heart of the convention and will be the focal point of several major events including the Welcome Reception, lunches, breakfasts, live entertainment, lectures and demonstrations. There are spaces for over 85 different exhibitors from bumper sticker and book sales to Xerox dealer and youth organizations. We will also have a Cyber Café inside the exhibit hall and in the center of the hall will be a Starbucks Coffee Shop and Snack Bar.

Convention tickets should go on sale by May 1, 2007 and the website will be ready in a few weeks. Please check it out for more details on the wonderful opportunity for Colorado.

About the hotel: The Adam's Mark hotel is the largest hotel in Colorado. Situated on the famous 16th Street Pedestrian Mall, you are never more than a step away from Denver's most exciting attractions. This 5 Star hotel boasts many fabulous amenities including a complimentary health club, all season heated pool, 24 hour room service, and much more.

We have negotiated a great room rate of only $99 per night. These rooms usually rent for $179 and up. This special rate starts on Monday, May 19th so you can bring the family to the city a few days early and visit the Denver Mint, see a Broadway play, or do some power shopping on the 16th Street mall.

Come to the 2008 National Libertarian Convention & Exposition and help spread the golden wave of Freedom.

Libertarian Rock and Roll that puts the Pee in Politics, and takes the PC out of Pop Culture.

PO box 2947, Littleton 80161

Just about anyone can instantly recall the moral of the classic children's tale about the little engine that struggled to get a train of loaded cars over a steep hill. As it toiled all the way up the hill, the only thing the engine said to itself over and over was "I think I can, I think I can..." A lesson in the power of believing in oneself.

The original engine pulling the train broke down, and the toys that were loaded in the cars went to one big locomotive after another and were refused with one excuse after another, until they met the little engine that was willing to help.

At some point in your past, you realized that there was a breakdown in our political system and that the promises of freedom, peace, and prosperity that our country's founders fought to bring about may no longer be delivered. If voter turnout is any indication, half of our population has given up and only has excuses for not being involved. But something made you believe a solution is still possible, and so you joined the Libertarian Party. We think we can.

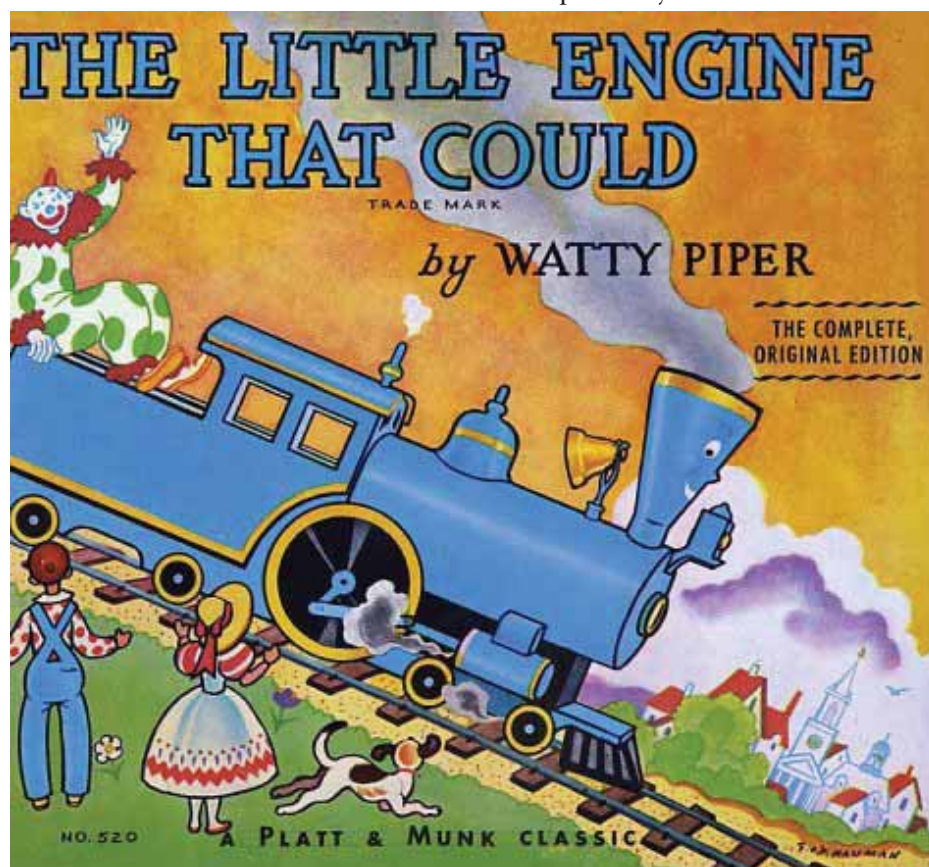

five initiatives on the ballot. That makes us the equivalent of one state legislator. If every one of us contributed $20 and spent another 4 to 8 hours in 2007, we could register more than 25,000 other libertarian-minded people into the party, and we would be five times as strong in 2008. We think we can.

If every one of us gave 1% of our income (about $240 per capita), then the Libertarian Party would have an annual revenue of about 1.5 million dollars (more if we keep growing), and by 2010 we could easily go toe-to-toe with Ritter's re-election machine and probably win a number

The War of Independence ran from the formation of George Washington's Continental Army starting in 1775 and ended with the Treaty of Paris in 1783. In the same amount of time, we could easily become a major party in Colorado and realize the promises of freedom, peace and prosperity for ourselves, just as the founding fathers did, but with just a fraction of their sacrifice. The catch is YOU have to get involved! If you wait for someone to give you your freedom, you will wait, and wait, and wait. If you work to claim your freedom, you will win.

Are you ready to make good on your original motivation for becoming a Libertarian? Figure out what percentage of money and time you can afford each year. If it's less than 1%, that's ok. If it's more, great! Any number greater than zero is acceptable. Just make the necessary arrangements and follow through. Bear with us as we scramble to put the required infrastructure in place. There will be growing pains, but that's better than the pain of growing tyranny. Don't burn out – get your friends and family to support you.

And soon enough, we'll be cheering – We thought we could! We thought we could!

We have over 6,300 registered Libertarians in Colorado. If every one of us spent 4 to 8 hours in 2007 circulating just one petition booklet each, we could easily put of seats in the legislature as well. If every one of us spent 1% of our time (almost 88 hours per year, or about 7.5 hours per month), we would have the equivalent labor of

The 2007 State Convention

Ken Wyble, LPAC Chair

No, do not confuse this with the big National Libertarian Convention taking place next year...this is our convention for THIS year. Hosted and planned by the Arapahoe County Affiliate, this year will be amazing with the simple fact that we will hold a dual locality convention to cover both sides of the mountains for the business meeting. Over on the Front Range side, we will start with a meet and greet Friday evening, May 18th. The Dual locality broadcast and web streaming business meeting will take place on Saturday, May 19 and will include a special awards luncheon with special guest Michael Badnarik. The Front Range will have the added bonus of Sunday, May 20 holding the Michael Badnarik Constitution class, which runs all day and costs only $100.

Front Range location is the Doubletree Southeast, located at I-225 and Iliff making it very accessible from all over the Front Range community and extremely affordable for anybody who would like to stay the weekend. Complimentary shuttle service can take you to the Aurora City Center and Mall for shopping or just down the street to the 9-mile station to take the light rail to Park Meadows or all the way downtown. We are charging just $25 for the lunch that should cover all our costs through the day.

The Western Slope location is DMEA Headquarters--11925 6300 Road Montrose, Colorado and Wes Long will trek over to that side and help run all the technology making this happen.

Keep an eye on the website for updated information and a detailed agenda, pre-registration and any calls for volunteers!

LPAC Update

Ken Wyble, LPAC Chair

The Libertarian Party of Arapahoe County is back up and running...with several dozen feet. Pulling together some of the state's best activists and utilizing tools like meetup.com (<http://libertarian.meetup.com/314/>) we have reestablished the affiliate, have weekly and monthly meetings, multiple events and plans for the immediate future. One of those upcoming events is a tax day protest on April 17 at the post office at Buckley and Alameda in Aurora. We are also all going to see the matinee performance of 1776 The Musical on April 15 at the Town Hall Arts Center in downtown Littleton. Following that will be the LPAC monthly meeting across the street at the Opus Lounge and everybody is invited. Look for about a 4:30 start to the meeting if you cannot make the performance.

In January, we sent out a letter to all the active Libertarians in the county covering many topics happening and coming up. In this letter, I had stated my intentions to go knock on the door of all the active

Libertarians in the County and get this done between mid January and the end of March. Due to the weather and an avalanche of work and activities I still have not started. The purpose of this visit is to introduce myself to everybody, to reassure him or her...that we are not alone. I want to verify contact information so we can always reach them with important notices via email or phone call that costs less than a letter and takes much less time than knocking on doors. From that point, I expect every visit will be unique and I am prepared to share details of upcoming events, handout materials, and ideally build a resource guide. With the resource guide I hope to rebuild the 'Libertarian Yellow Pages' and have at our fingertips Libertarians in nearly every sector of our economy and specialists who can assist us with knowledge base and research sources. If my catering business takes off faster than my graphic design business, I need a different car. Since I do not have a loyalty to any brand or dealership, I would like to find a Libertarian car dealer. I'm going to need some commercial office space soon too, might as well use our Libertarian Realtor, Leah Kelley, also the Campaigns Director. The list will go beyond that. I want to know which restaurants have the most Libertarian leaning management or owners and I want to spend my money there...lots of money.

If you are reading this and live outside of Arapahoe County and would like somebody to contact you, even knock on your door, give me a call or send me an email and if I don't do it personally, I'll find somebody who can.

Check out our website <http://lparapahoe.org> for more information especially the exciting outreach events coming up soon.

Subscribe to LPCO Liberty Alerts!

LPCO Liberty Alerts are a short synopsis of pending statewide or national legislation with quick actions you can take - such as sending a pre-written e-mail to your representative(s). LPCO Liberty Alerts are typically e-mailed weekly from the LPCO Legislative Director. Help us strike a blow for liberty every week by joining the more than 1,600 Colorado Libertarians already subscribing to LPCO Liberty Alerts.
